DATA SHEET

CENSUS FOR DEVELOPMENT | www.nbs.go.tz

NOTES AND DEFINITION

The information used in this data sheets are mainly taken from 2012 Tanzania Population and Housing Census. To obtain the trends and comparison, the information from 1967-2002 Population and Housing Censuses together with Tanzania Demographic Surveys (TDHS) were used.

Published: May, 2014

Data in the table and graphics may not sum to 100 percent due to rounded numbers and some of the indicators are not presented in the data sheet.

DEFINITIONS

Population growth rate

The fractional rate at which the number of individuals in a population increases. Specifically, population growth rate ordinarily, refers to the change in population over a unit time period, often expressed as a percentage of the number of individuals in the population at the beginning of that period. Growth rate in this book is expressed as an exponential rate of growth of population from year 2002 to 2012.

Average household size

The total number of persons dividing by the total number of households in a given population.

Sex ratio

The ratio of males to females in a given population usually expressed as the number of males for every 100 females. For example, sex ratio of 98 for Katavi region means, for every 100 females, there are 98 males.

Population density

The number of people living in a given area usually expressed as people per square kilometre.

Age-Dependency Rat

The ratio of people in the "dependent" ages (those under age 15 and age 65 and older) to those in the "working age population" (15-64 years).

Elderly Population

According to international definition, an elderly person is the one aged 65 years and above. However, according to Tanzania National Ageing Policy, an older person is an individual who is 60 years and above.

Population Pyramid

The graphically displays population's age and sex composition. Horizontal bars present the numbers or proportions of males and females in each age group.

Marriag

An act of persons who are living together or separately but are formally married irrespective of the type of marriage, which may be customary, civil or religious marriage.

Never Marri

The persons who have remained single all their lives excluding persons who have lived with another person and are now living alone.

Divorced Persons

Those persons who were once married but their marriages were permanently terminated and have not remarried since then. Note that in polygamous marriages the divorce of one or more wives does not categorize the husband as divorced if he still lives with the other wife (wives).
