Preface

Gross Domestic Product (GDP) compilation in Mainland Tanzania is consistent with the latest international guideline known as the System of National Accounts 2008 (2008 SNA), and the International Standard of Industrial Classification Revision. 4 (ISIC Rev 4) used to classify all economic activities. The use of internationally agreed standards makes it possible to compare findings from Mainland Tanzania with other countries' Quarterly Gross Domestic Product estimates (QGDP).

Findings in these reports facilitate frequent and appropriate policy interventions using available reliable and timely data on recent short-term economic developments. The term “quarter” in this report refers to a period of three months of the Calendar Year (January – March, April – June, July- September and October – December). The main data used in the compilation of these reports were sourced from administrative records for all economic activities undertaken during the reference period.

The second QGDP presents total value of goods and services derived from all economic activities performed in Mainland Tanzania for the period of April to June 2025. The value is presented in absolute terms at current prices and constant 2015 prices. Other items presented are shares to GDP and growth rates by economic activity expressed as percentages.

I recognize valuable contributions received from numerous entities and stakeholders, both public and private, that provided basic input data and information required for the preparation of this report. Moreover, this report serves as a feedback mechanism as well as means for providing views and comments that will be used to improve the quality of quarterly reports in future.

Dr. Amina S. Msengwa
Statistician General

1.0 Introduction

This report presents Quarterly Gross Domestic Product (QGDP) as one of key economic indicators that shows trend of performance for all economic activities at current and constant prices for Mainland Tanzania. The QGDP facilitates frequent and appropriate policy interventions by providing reliable and timely data on recent short-term economic developments.

1.1. World Economy

The World Economic Outlook (WEO) report released in July 2025 revealed the projection of global economic growth at 3.0 percent up in 2025, from the projected growth of 2.8 percent indicated in the WEO report released in April 2025. The upward revision from the April 2025 WEO report by 0.2 percentage points in line with positive adjustment that show economic activities have been stronger than expected, as producers and consumers brought forward spending in anticipation of lower U.S. tariff rates than those announced earlier in April, easing pressures on international trade flows; improved financial conditions that have further supported growth, partly driven by a weaker U.S. dollar, which has enhanced global liquidity and eased financing conditions, particularly for emerging markets.

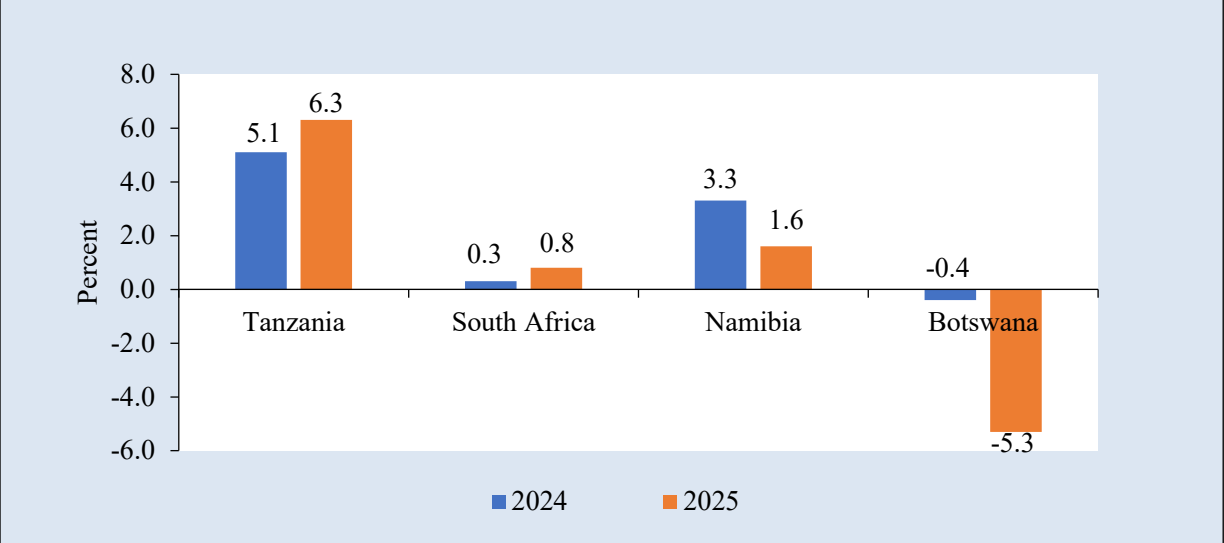

1.2. Sub-Saharan Africa

According to the July 2025 WEO report, economic growth in Sub-Sahara countries is projected to grow at 4.0 percent in 2025, compared to 3.8 percent projected in the April 2025 WEO report. South Africa's economy is projected to grow at 1.0 percent in 2025, which is in line with projection made in the April 2025 WEO report. Meanwhile, Nigeria's economic growth is projected at 3.4 percent, which is higher than 3.0 percent estimated in the April 2025 WEO report.

1.3. Southern Africa Development Community

Assessment of economic performance of selected countries in the Southern Africa Development Community (SADC) for the period of April to June 2025 indicated that: South Africa's economy grew by 0.8 percent, up from 0.3 percent growth recorded in 2024. Namibia's economy expanded by 1.6 percent down, from 3.3 percent observed in the corresponding period in 2024. Botswana's economy contracted to negative 5.3 percent down, from negative 0.4 percent growth registered in the similar quarter in 2024. In addition, Tanzania's economy expanded by 6.3 percent in the second quarter of 2025 compared to 5.1 percent recorded in the corresponding period in 2024.

1.5. GDP Compilation in Tanzania

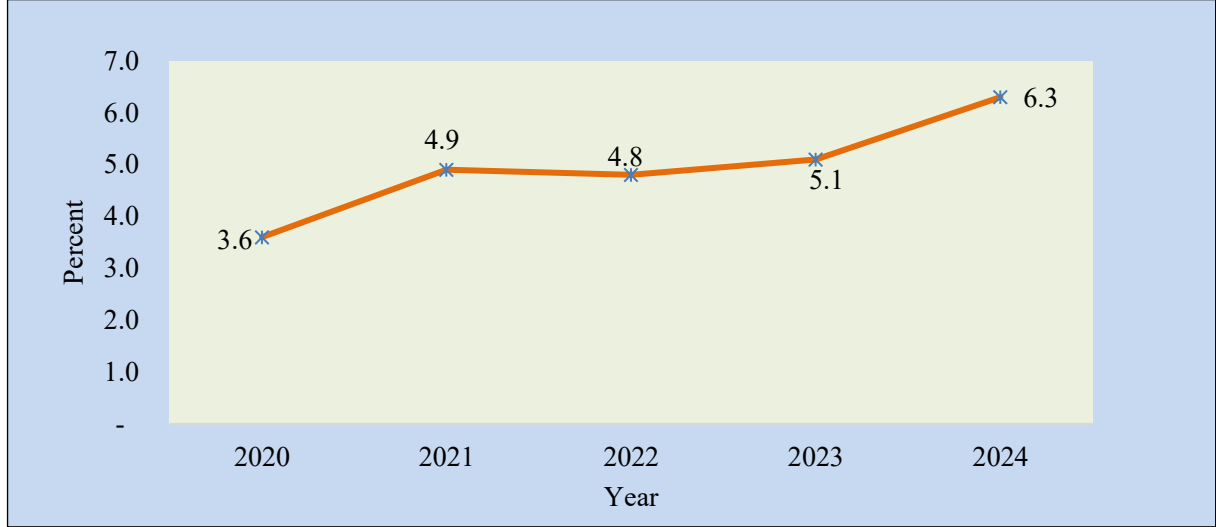

The National Bureau of Statistics is also implementing the National Accounts Revision Policy that became operational in 2019. The policy allows publication of provisional results subject to availability of new or revised quarterly and/or annual data. The current Gross Domestic Product estimates have been aligned to the revised balance of payment statistics released by Bank of Tanzania for the period from 2017 to 2024.

The compilation of National Accounts Statistics for the second quarter GDP (April – June) 2025 utilized data collected from all economic activities conducted in the country.
